

Loosley Row and Lacey Green Horticultural Society

MARCH
2022

Spring has arrived at last, everything is waking up. Fingers crossed we don't get a cold spell in Spring like last year. This time of the month is perfect to capture your garden and surrounding areas so send in your photographs.
Happy gardening!!!

Alison Shreeve

Iris reticulata flowering in February

Alison Shreeve

Pulmonaria and Snowdrops

New Roof for the school greenhouse

Clematis Cirrhosa

Alison Shreeve

Sweet Peas ready to go outside.

Jane Herve

Jane Herve

Caroline Bowen

Caroline Bowen

Michael and Betty Hardy

Hellebore.

Michael and Betty Hardy

'Tête-à-tête' dwarf Daffodil

Bergenias

Michael and Betty Hardy

Anenome Blanda.

Crocus.

A bee enjoying crocus.

Hellebores.

Marcia Fendom

Camellia

Kay and Simon Bolton

Plant marker fell out. Any ideas what they are?

Greenhouses nearly at bursting point.

Edible Violas.

Kay and Simon Bolton

Salad plants over wintered in the greenhouse doing well in the Spring light.

Violas growing well in the greenhouse

Remember please keep sending in your photos they can be anything horticultural or wildlife based through to the environment and life in the Chilterns horticultural.society@btconnect.com