

Loosley Row and Lacey Green Horticultural Society

February
2023

The days are getting longer, the bulbs are emerging Snowdrops and Hellebores are flowering...but we are also having deep cold frosts.

Happy Gardening, nearly Spring 2023!

Alison Shreeve

Double Snowdrops

Alison Shreeve

Amaryllis

Winter jasmine

Lungwort in bud

Iris

Kay and Simon Bolton

Violas loving life in the greenhouse

New no-dig veg patch at St John's School. Each year group has its own bed to grow veg and flowers for the coming year

Kay and Simon Bolton

Some of their favourite Dahlias from 2022

Ginnie Brudenell

Hope springs eternal! In spite of rain, gales, snow and ice, these little beauties are happily flowering away. It never ceases to amaze me that they come up every year with such enthusiasm and joy.

This year's hot summer was just what lemon trees like best and we are having a bumper harvest. Lemon curd anyone?

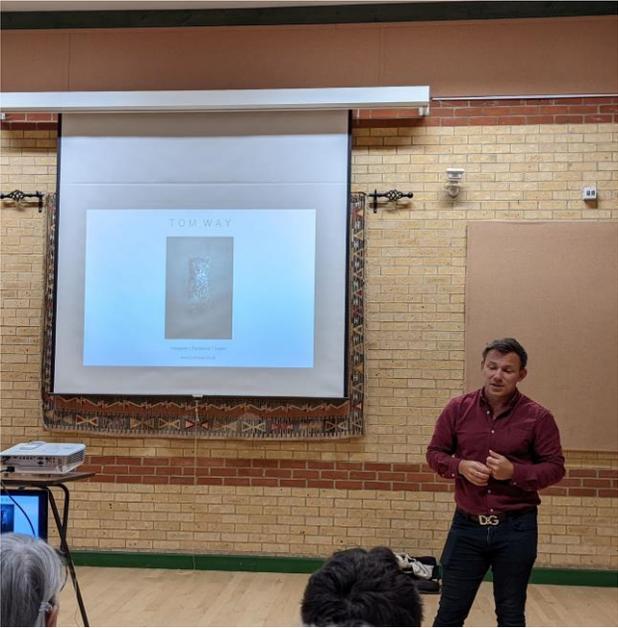

Ann Bartlett

Kelly Leach

Tom Way - Talking at the village hall

Caroline Bowen

Michael Hardy

Caroline Bowen

Red Kites in the neighbour's garden

Remember please keep sending in your photos they can be anything horticultural or wildlife based through to the environment and life in the Chilterns horticultural.society@btconnect.com